

FX Trader Pro – Verification code

Verification code provides an additional level of security on trading accounts. You will be required to enter a unique one-time verification code every time you log into the trading platform.

The verification code will be sent to your registered mobile number via SMS and email.

How to enable the verification code

To start using the one-time verification code, you are required to update the trading platform to the latest version and also have a valid mobile phone number or email in our record in order to receive the code from us.

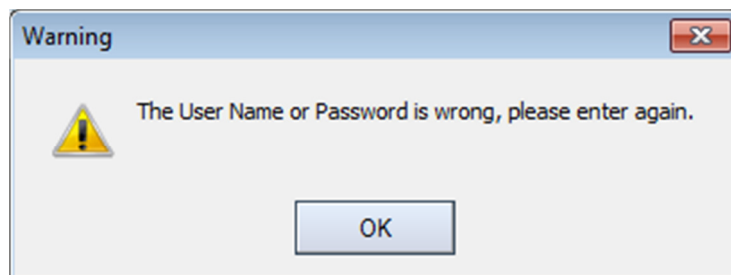

In the new log in window above, input your account details:

User: account number (e.g. OS123456T)

Password: your personal password

Host: SHKFX.FORTEX.NET

Then click “Get” to request for a verification code. If the account number or password is invalid, the system will not send out the verification code and the below warning message will pop up:

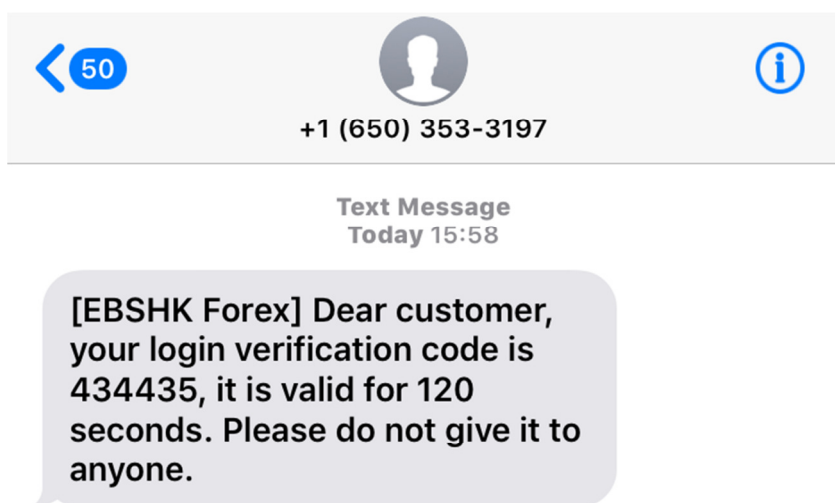

The verification code, which will remain valid for 120 seconds, will be sent to BOTH the registered email and mobile number as SMS, and the below pop-up message will be shown to inform you that the code has been sent out:

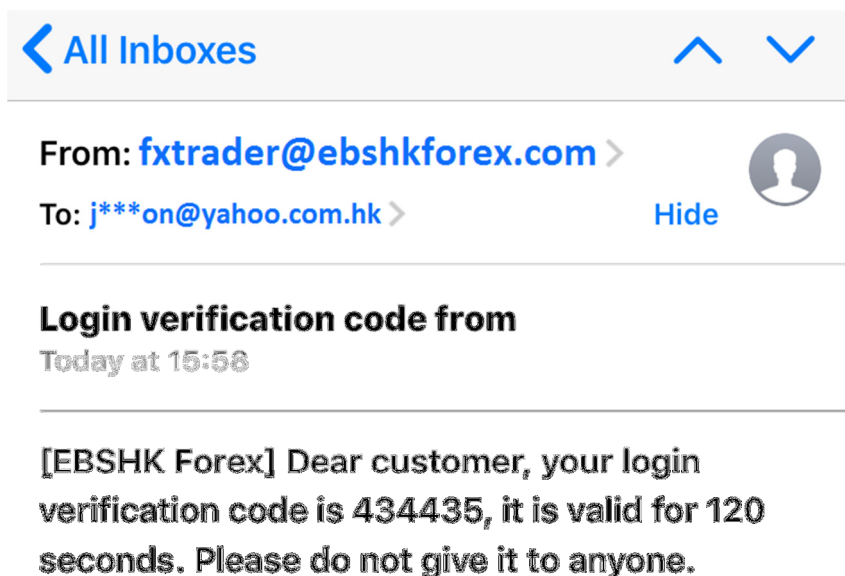

Example of the SMS and Email as below:
